Smart Partners Consulting began operations in 2013 as an HR consulting firm providing professional services of: Recruitment, Training and HR/Manpower Outsourcing with consultancy undertone.

Smart Partners Consulting is built on collaboration business model of creative and skilled professionals who have been able to blend contemporary thinking and techniques with established ability.

The innovative recruitment strategies of our seasoned professionals have a single remit – to provide a first class service where value comes first.

Smart Partners Consulting offers a truly , SMART and dynamic recruitment / placement service, which responds to today's work place practices.

Our collaboration with Pelsisi Europe, a UK based HR firm has positioned us to take on expatriate recruitment, international training and manpower outsourcing briefs for your local and international needs.

Some companies we have worked for and working with...

How we work.

We work with you to create a bespoke solution based on our tried and tested methodology of servicing clients.

We believe in only hiring the best - for you ! Our Associates Partners come from industry backgrounds of IT, Banking, Law , Oil and Gas, Research, Hospitality, Marketing, Engineering, Education and others . Because they can better understand your needs, the reality of the industries we work in and the choices a candidate must make and the pressures they face.

We are unlike some recruitment companies that have cropped up over the years. We truly understand the industries and roles that we source into.

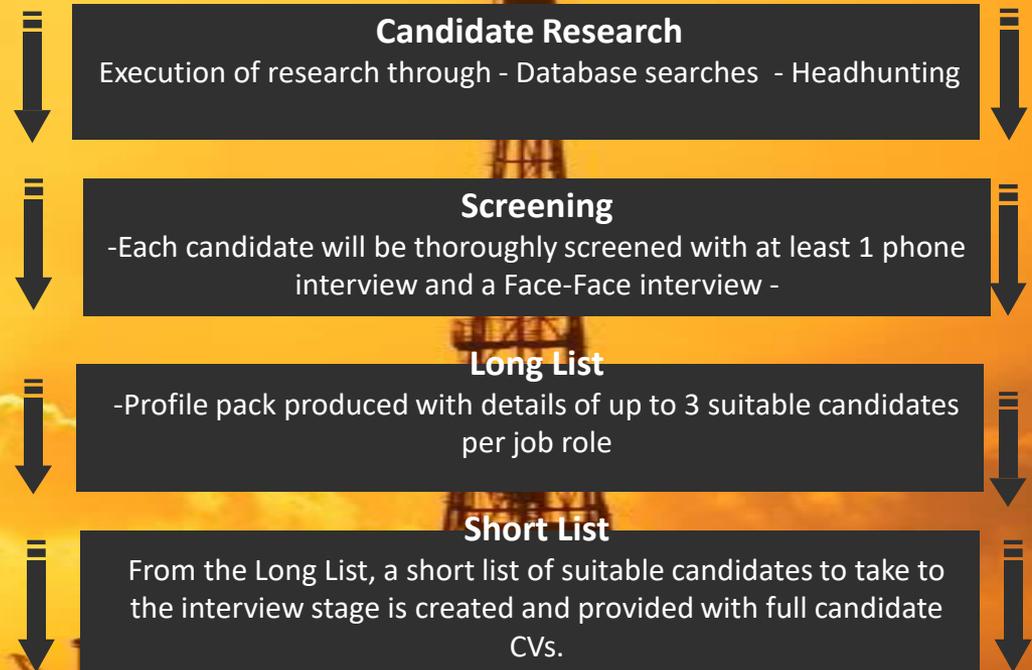

We use our own blend of market experience, deep analytical research and thorough understanding of your business needs, to make reliable and profitable suggestions.

We take a project management approach to each case ensuring tight management of deadlines, control of budgets and implementing the correct solution each time.
